EIPM Annual Conference
PURCHASING CULTURE 4.0

*14th - 15th December 2017
Archamps - France*

This year, the EIPM Conference will explore what Culture 4.0 means for Purchasing teams. Together we shall investigate:

- How to lead your teams through such transformations
- How your people take the lead in making changes happen
- How to create an environment that supports innovation, creativity and entrepreneurship
- How purchasing becomes more agile
- How to foster vibrant and fruitful relationships, inside and outside the company
- How we welcome new generations of employees

22nd EIPM Annual Conference

Purchasing Culture 4.0

For more than two decades, the EIPM Annual Conference has been promoting critical thinking through a series of discussions focused on Purchasing Excellence, Talent Management, Innovation and Value Creation along with many other topics.

About

As companies go through major transformations, Purchasing has an increasing role to play in bringing Innovation, Circularity and the Internet of Things to life.

This calls for many changes, not only in terms of process and skills, but also in terms of culture.

Indeed, as digitalisation calls for a redefinition of how business competes, human interaction is paradoxically ever more essential.
